INTRODUCTORY

N presenting this, the first issue of our complete Darke County Directory, we feel assured that the work has been compiled and arranged in such a careful and thorough manner as to be accorded the commendation of all, and that it will prove an almost indispensable volume to private citizens as well as to the business and professional men.

We appreciate the impossibility of entirely eliminating all inaccuracies, but have spared no pains to secure the fullest and most accurate information in the compilation of this book.

The patronage and support extended us, as well as the courtesies shown our solicitors, are heartily appreciated.

Baker Ball-bearing .....Wind Engines

BAKER Wind Engines are all provided with our chilled steel Ball bearing turntables, the engines are self regulating and will pump in the lightest breeze. In severe winds the BAKER will throw itself automatically out of gear and when the wind subsides comes into gear and works without assistance. The working parts are entirely closed, which protects them against rain, snow, ice, sleet, rust and dust.

The Ball Bearing Eccentric gives a smooth steady motion to the engine and insures long life to pump and cylinder leathers doing away with the hammering noise so often heard in other mills.

The BAKER is unsurpassed for simplicity and easy running. Wind mill power is growing in popularity as it is economical and requires no attention. For pumping it is not equalled by any power.

farmers and business men*

Why Farmers Should Keep a Bank Account

Their bank deposit books afford them a complete record of their cash receipts while the stubs of their check books are a perfect record of expenses and payments. Paying a laborer, a store account or any other bill with a bank check is much safer than with money because you avoid the risk of handling the actual cash, and the endorsed check returned by the bank is the best kind of a receipt. Farmers, ninety-eight per cent of the business done in this country is done with checks and drafts. Why not try the experiment for one year of keeping a bank account and see if it does not pay you. A large number of the best farmers have accounts with us now. We want every farmer to have one.

RIDGEVILLE STONE CRUSHING PLANT.

GOOD ROADS AND GOOD STREETS.

Why should we throw our money away in building poor gravel roads that are only good in good weather. Three yards of crushed stone will build a better road than five yards of gravel. We can build a better road at the same cost with stone than we can with gravel. Our stone road will be good at all times, winter and summer. The life of a gravel road is three to five years. The life of a stone road is thirty to fifty years. Every man interested in good roads should investigate. The Ridgeville lime crushed stone is not excelled for roads or macadamize streets, concrete cement walks, curbs and gutters. It is quick to bond. Have you ever used our screenings for driveways, alleys or repair work? Prompt shipment; capacity all plants 100 car loads crushed stone per day.

VALUE OF GOOD ROADS

THE ABOVE MACADAMIZED STREET

South 14th to Main Street in Richmond, Ind., built in 1905, using RIDGEVILLE CRUSHED STONE, put down with a twelve ton steam roller.

BAD ROADS MEAN POVERTY.

A poor county can be more surely kept poor by bad roads than by any other medium, for poverty is not so much a cause as effect of disreputable roads. By the same token the rich county may become poor by neglect of its highways.

Ridgeville lime crushed stone is not excelled for stone roads and macadamized streets quick to bond.

Over 400 miles of stone roads made of RIDGEVILLE STONE since our quarry opened in 1904.

Have shipped more highway and street crushed stone than any other plant in Indiana, Ohio or Illinois.

Roads made of our stone can be seen in Allen, Adams Blackford, Delaware, Grant, Jay, Noble, Rush, Wayne counties, Indiana, and many counties in Ohio. Also for streets and concrete work in all cities and incorporated towns in our territory, also used for concrete buildings.

Always pleased to quote prices delivered on sidings.

VOLTAIRE

No. 28,734

Is a Percheron stallion imported from France in 1902 by Keiser Brothers and Phillips, of Redkey, Indiana, and is registered in the Percheron Stud Book of America under number 23,734 (46,817)

Pedigree

Foaled March 3, 1899; bred by M. Meunier, commune of Souance, dept. of Eure-et-Loir; got by Lycean 21,630 (42,509); Dam, Bijou (24,684) by Marvel 1922 (1061); 2nd dam, Cocotte (13,655) by Coco belonging to M. E. Perriote; 3rd dam, Cocotte belonging to M. Meunier.

He is a beautiful black stallion and a sure foal getter. His colts are the kind that you want on the farm; they always bring a big price when placed on the market.

Blood will tell and he has the right kind in him

Will make the season at Gettysburg, O.

No Getting Back Hard-Earned Cash From Mail Order Houses.

The destructive effects of large catalogue houses upon the individual mercantile efforts in the small towns and cities have grown to an alarming extent since the establishment of the rural free delivery and threaten to sap the business life out of the country towns and center it in the large cities. Farmers especially are victims to the glaring inducements held out by these mail order houses, and only find out their mistake after the local dealer has suffered the loss of his legitimate share of their patronage. The profit of each transaction which would naturally remain in the town and pass from man to man is sent away, business is curtailed, rendered unprofitable and bad conditions are certain to follow. The home dealer is progressive and encourages and heads social enterprises and improvements; he donates to church and charities and pays a good proportion of the local taxes and his interests are closely allied with those of his customers; he selects and sells the best the market supplies; his character and his word are good; his statements and advertisements must be honestly and faithfully made good; examination and comparison is the privilege of the customer; you can see and examine just what you buy and merit is held equal with price. A safe and sure way to buy goods is through your home merchants, with whom you are acquainted and in whom you have confidence. When your money is sent away to Chicago mail order houses or to any other large city it is gone forever, as there is not one chance in a thousand that any part of it will ever be returned to your home town, while if you buy your goods of your home merchant a large part of it will remain in circulation in the community in which you reside.

The man who kindles the fire with the catalogues from the department stores and gives all his trade to his home merchants is the man who helps to put a better value on your property. The more a town grows and the more business it does, the greater the increase in the value of property—both city and farm. The man who patronizes the city department store in preference to his home merchants, thinking that he may thereby save a few pennies, is simply detracting from the wealth of his own community.

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRIES.

Thousands of dollars are sent out of Henry County annually that ought to be spent right here at home with the men who perhaps, in the face of some disadvantages and at some risk, have established manufacturing enterprises here and are turning out just as good products as are made anywhere.

If you buy of these home manufacturers you pay them a profit, of course, and help them not only to continue in business, but to enlarge and improve their business and employ more workmen and buy more of your produce and merchandise, and in every way help to build up a greater county and state.

Patronize home industries; every dollar of profit comes back to you if spent here. If spent abroad it never comes back. Help build up home industries. They will help build you up. They, prospering, through your patronage, will make your business more profitable, will increase the value of your real estate, will create a constantly increasing demand for labor, and will steadily increase the consumption of everything produced.

Get out of the notion that the further away a thing is made the better it is. Get in the habit of patronizing home industries. It is the right and sensible thing to do. It is the profitable thing to do. It is the only way to grow and prosper. Be loyal to home, county, city and state.

PREFACE

The following pages have been added to this work with the view of giving to the farmers a handy and ready reference in cases of sickness occurring to any of his stock and at the same time advising ways and means of treatment of the most common diseases. Aside from this, the average farmer is constantly in need of legal advice and frequently has use for many legal forms, such as contracts, leases, rentals, loans, bonds and etc., and many dollars can be saved annually by using the information contained in the following pages. We have not neglected the human family and have suggested helpful hints and simple remedies, gathered from the best physicians for the many maladies which we are all subject to.

We can heartily recommend any of the formulas given for the human family and animal family as being the very best that superior training and long years of practice can devise.

It has been our object in compiling this part of the work to avoid all difficult, technical and scientific terms, and to make the language so simple as to insure its value as useful and reliable for every day reference.

Few people will realize the amount of work that has been necessary to gather the information in the following pages. Hundreds of works have been examined, public libraries and private book-cases overhauled, and the writings of noted writers, both in this country and Europe have been carefully compared and selections made from the best. Where selections of a reliable nature could not be found, original articles from the most scientific men in the country were obtained, thus giving facts for the farmer, gleaned from those deemed the brightest and brainiest of this and foreign countries.

This part of the work is intended for the practical farmer, rich or poor, who is willing to believe that while he has learned much, from experience that it is not impossible that others may have learned something too—something that it may benefit them to learn also, and who are liberal enough to see that all truth and value of a fact is not destroyed by its being printed.

We therefore leave the work to the judgment of the Henry County farmers, believing that if there is merit in the pages the same will be appreciated and used.

HINTS

Fit yourself to your place and your place will soon fit you and give you pleasure and prosperity.

* * *

Liquid ammonia relieves the effects of the sting of bees; but a much more effectual antidote is ammoniated tincture of quinin.

* * *

Marriage is a lottery in which men stake their liberty and women their happiness.

* * *

Never refuse to own a book containing valuable information; it is money well invested.—Abraham Lincoln.

* * *

The man who studies a single subject till he loses sight of everything else is always in danger of parting with his judgment. When he does that, when he is entirely rapt in a single idea, he almost inevitably develops what unscientific people call crankiness.

* * *

To remove fish bones and other obstruction impacted in the throat, there is perhaps no simpler and more efficient relief than to swallow a pint of milk, and in half an hour an emetic of sulfate of zinc. Both pass the obstruction easily in a fluid form, but in being thrown up from the stomach it is a coagulated mass that drives everything before it with great force.

* * *

For the most delicate and most important purposes, nickel steel is fast supplanting carbon steel.

We seldom prize to its full value what is in our present possession. It is when we are deprived of it that we discover its excellence.

* * *

We talk of trifles. Yes, there is such a thing as a trifle. But many an incident or act we call a trifle is of more importance than we suspect.

* * *

Talk of chiseling from the cold marble a statue of life—this is the work of art few can attain. But there is a quarry out of which any of us can form a living statue far transcending the artist's art, be that ever so wonderful. Life is that quarry, and that quarry is our own inheritance; out of it we may chisel and complete and polish so beautiful a character that the very angels shall envy.

* * *

Character in Walking.—Quick steps are indicative of energy and agitation.

Tip-toe walking symbolizes surprise, curiosity, discretion or mystery.

Turn-in-toes are often found with preoccupied, absent-minded persons.

The miser's walk is represented as stooping, and noiseless, with short, nervous, anxious steps.

Slow steps, whether long or short, suggest a gentle or reflective state of mind.

Where a revengeful purpose is hidden under a feigned smile, the step will be slinking and noiseless.

The proud step is slow and measured, the toes are conspicuously turned out, the legs straitened.

The direction of the steps wavering and following every changing impulse of the mind inevitably betrays uncertainty, hesitation and indecision.

Obstinate people, who in argument rely more on muscularity than on intellectual power, rest the feet flatly and firmly on the ground, walk heavily and slowly, and stand with legs firmly planted and far apart.

* * *

Life Influence.—A larger part of our lives than we are apt to suppose is the direct outcome of the habits of those around us. Unconsciously we think and speak and act as others do, and our standards of what is right and proper, beautiful or good, are formed from theirs. As the child emerges from the home into school or the youth from his native place to another, he finds, to his astonishment, that there are other customs maintained, other standards upheld, other views entertained than those which he had supposed to be universal. This revelation often comes with a shock to his mind and a quick pleasure at the foreign intrusion. But gradually this passes into a better understanding of the new custom and a thoughtful comparison between it and his own. His mind is thus widened, his thinking faculties are awakened, his prejudices are shaken up, and the peaceful conflict gives him strength and independence.

* * *

We live not so much on the quantity of the food we eat, as on the amount we digest, and, often, if the quantity was less, the digestion would be better. Then, again the quality of our food has much to do with its digestion. Because food satisfies our hunger is no reason it will sufficiently satisfy the demands of the system; and what may be easily digested in active exercise may be unadapted to sedentary employment, or enforced idleness. If, therefore, we would enjoy our food and be healthy in its enjoyment, we must intelligently discriminate in what and how and when we eat, and especially in regulating the quantity to suit our capacity, our special needs and our digestion.

---

THE TENDENCY OF THINGS.

It behoves us to look well to our steps. The journey of each day, though little in itself, points its finger toward the journey of life. The mighty forces for good and evil are made up of such little things, that often we can see and judge them only in the aggregate. When, therefore, we are in doubt as to the quality of a single act or habit, we should go further and ask, what are its tendencies and associations, and what may be its final outcome? And if you still doubt, perhaps we can recognize its character in those in whom the act or habit has become prominent. What is a whiff at the insignificant cigarette? Look at the old smoker. What is the harm of a glass of wine or beer? Look at the drunkard. What is the harm of a little vulgar jest? Look at the libertine. What is the pilfer of a penny? Look at the highway robber.

Thus we may couple the incipient act in any direction with the final fruit of its aggregation. Would you acquire a noble character? Be noble in every act. Would you be a skillful workman? Be exact in every particular. Would you have a lucrative business? Attend wisely to every detail. Even a man's walk in stateliness or in awakardness shows his bringing up. His very conversation shows his culture, and almost any characteristic, habit, manner or demeanor, gives a glimpse of his whole life.

Yes, the tendency of a single act is the tendency of the life. The tendency of big mouthfuls and loose, slovenly ways at the table shows a life of vulgarity.

The tendency of dirty finger-nails, shirt collar and hair shows general filthiness. The tendency of laxity in anything is laxity in everything.

HOW COLDS ARE TAKEN.

A person in good health, with fair play, says the Lancet, easily resists cold. But when the health flags a little, and liberties are taken with the stomach or the nervous system, a chill is easily taken, and according to the weak spot of the individual, assumes the form of a cold or pneumonia, or it may be jaundice. Of all causes of "cold," probably fatigue is one of the most efficient. A jaded man coming home at night from a long day's work, a growing youth losing two hour's sleep over evening parties two or three times a week, or a young lady heavily "doing the season," young children overfed and with short allowance of sleep, are common instances of the victims of "cold."

Luxury is favorable to chill taking; very hot rooms, feather beds and soft chairs create a sensitiveness that leads to catarrh. It is not, after all, the "cold" that is so much to be feared as the antecedent conditions that give the attack a chance of doing harm. Some of the worst "colds" happen to those who do not leave their houses or even their bed, and those who are most invulnerable are often those who are exposed to changes of temperature, and who by good sleep, cold bathing and regular habits preserve the tone of their nervous system and circulation. Probably many chills are contracted at night or at the fag end of the day, when tired people get the equilibrium of their circulation, disturbed by either their overheated sitting rooms or underheated bed rooms and bed. This is specially the case with elderly people. In such cases the mischief is not always done instantaneously, or in a single night. It often takes place insidiously, extending over days or even weeks.

Legal Forms and Advice on Commercial Law

ACTION.

There is but one Form of Action, which is known as a Civil Action. The code has abolished distinctions between actions at Law and Equity, so far as relates to name and form, but it has not abolished legal or equitable rights. The court is to be regarded as a court of Law or Equity, according to nature of the case. The plaintiff must be the real party in interest, except an executor, administrator or guardian, a trustee of an expressed trust, a person with whom, or in whose name a contract is made for the benefit of another or a person expressly authorized by statute may bring an action without joining with him the person for whose benefit the action is brought, and officers may sue and be sued in such manner as is authorized by law.

ARBITRATION.

All persons who have any controversy, except when the possession or title of real estate may come in question, may submit such controversy to the arbitrament or umpirage of any person or persons, to be mutually agreed upon by the parties, and they may make such submission a rule of any court of record in the State.

ASSIGNED CLAIMS.

May be sued on in the name of the owner—Bonds, Bills Exchange, Promissory Notes—All bonds, promissory notes, bills of exchange, foreign and inland, to any person or assigns are negotiable by indorsement thereon, and all such instruments payable to a person or bearer are negotiable by delivery. An indorsee or holder may maintain an action in his own name on any such instruments for the recovery of the money due on the same against the maker, drawer or obligor; or, after the use of due diligence to obtain the money of the maker, drawer, obligor or acceptor, such action may be instituted against the indorser. If any such instrument be transferred after due and the indorsee institute an action thereon, the maker, drawer or acceptor may set up any defense he might have made if the action were instituted in the name of the person to whom such instrument was originally made payable.

CHATTEL MORTGAGES.

A mortgage of goods and chattels not accompanied by an immediate delivery and followed by an actual and continued change of possession of the things mortgaged, is absolutely void, as against the creditors of the mortgagor, subsequent purchases and mortgagees in good faith, unless the mortgage or a true copy thereof is deposited with the Township Clerk of the Township where the Mortgagor resides at the time of the execution thereof if a resident of the state, and if not such resident, then with the Clerk of the Township in which the property so mortgaged is situated at the time of the execution thereof, but if the mortgagor is a resident of a township where the office of county recorder is kept, or where the mortgagor is a resident of a township entirely merged in a city or incorporated village in which the office of county recorder is kept, or when he is a non-resident of the state, and the property is within such township, the mortgage shall be filed with the county recorder. The mortgagor, his agent or attorney, before the mortgage is filed, shall state thereon under oath the amount of the claim, that it is just and unpaid, if given to secure the payment of money. If given to indemnify the mortgagee as surety for the mortgagor, such sworn statement should set forth such liability, and that the instrument was taken in good faith to indemnify against loss, that may result therefrom. A chattel mortgage is void as against creditors and subsequent purchasers or mortgagees in good faith after the expiration of one year from the filing, unless the same is renewed and refiled within thirty days next preceding the expiration of the said term of one year.

No chattel mortgage on the necessary household goods, wearing apparel or mechanics tools of any person or family, except chattel mortgages given to secure the whole or some part of the purchase price thereof, shall be foreclosed except in a court of record.

Civil Rights.

All persons within the jurisdiction of this state, without distinction of color and race, are entitled to the full and equal enjoyment of the accommodations, advantages, facilities and privileges of inns, restaurants, eating houses, barber shops, public conveyances, on land and water, theatres and all other places of public accommodation and amusement, subject only to the conditions and limitations established by law, and applicable alike to all citizens.

Conditional Sales.

All conditional sales of personal property in which the title is retained by the vendor, lessor, renter, hirer or deliver of the same must be evidenced by writing, properly verified by affidavit as a chattel mortgage and such writing shall be deposited with the clerk of the township or county recorder, in the same manner as chattel mortgages, otherwise they are inoperative as against creditors and purchasers for value in so far as they reserve the title in the vendor. The vendor of property conditionally sold, cannot retake possession of the property without repaying a certain part of the price paid.

Consignments.

If any carrier, warehouseman, factor, storage, forwarding or commission merchant, or manufacturer, or his clerk, agent or employee, with the intent to defraud, sells, or in any way disposes of, or applies or converts to his own use, and bill of lading, custom house permit, or warehouse keepers receipt, intrusted to or possessed by him, or any property intrusted or consigned to him, or the proceeds of profits of any sale of such property, or fails to pay over such proceeds deducting charges and usual or agreed commission, or the product of any property delivered to him to be maufactured, after deducting any compensation to which he may be entitled as commission for the manufacture, shall be imprisoned in the penitentiary not more than four years nor less than one year.

---

Deeds, Mortgages, Leases.

---

A deed, mortgage or lease shall be signed and acknowledged in the presence of two witnesses, who shall attest the signing and subscribe their names, and the execution shall be acknowledged before a judge of a court of record, county auditor, county surveyor, notary public, mayor of justice of the peace, who shall certify the acknowledgement and subscribe his name and official character on the same sheet on which the instrument is printed or written.

---

False Pretense.

---

Whoever, by any false pretense, with intent to defraud, obtain from any person anything of value, or procures the signature of any person as maker, indorser, or guarantor thereof, to any bond, bill, receipt, promissory note, draft or check, or any other evidence of indebtedness, and whoever sells, barters or disposes of or offers to sell, barter or dispose of any bond, bill, receipt, promissory note, draft or check, knowing the signature of the maker, indorser or guarantor thereof to have been obtained by any false pretense, shall, if the value (of the property or instrument so procured sold, bartered or disposed of, or offered to be sold, bartered or disposed of) is thirty-five dollars or more, be imprisoned in the penitentiary not more than three years, nor less than one year or if the value is less than that sum, be fined not more than one hundred nor less than ten dollars, or imprison not more than sixty nor less than ten days, or both.

---

Mechanics Liens.

Persons performing manual labor have a lien upon the realty of their employers for their wages. Any person who performs labor, or furnishes machinery, fuel or material for constructing altering or repairing any boat, etc., or for erecting, altering, repairing or removing house, mill, manufactory, furnace, or other buildings, appurtenance, fixture, bridge, or other structure, or for digging, drilling, plumbing, boring, operating, labor in altering, repairing or constructing any oil derrick, oil tank, oil or gas pipe line, or furnishes tile for drainage of land, by virtue of a contract with the owner, part owner or lessee thereof, or his agent, shall have a lien to secure the payment of such claim upon the interest, leasehold, or otherwise, of the owner in the lot or land on which the structure may stand, or on which the labor was expended.

If several liens be obtained, by several persons, upon the same job in the manner prescribed, they shall have no priority among themselves and all payments on said liens shall be made pro rata.

To obtain such liens, such person shall within four months from the time of performing such labor or furnishing such machinery or material, file with the recorder of the county wherein the labor was performed on the machinery or material was furnished, an affidavit containing an itemized statement of the amount and value of such labor, machinery, fuel or material and a description of the land on which such structure may be located—

Any sub contractor, material man, laborer or mechanic who is performing labor or furnishing material or machinery, may, within ninety days from the completion of such labor or the delivery of such machinery or material, take a lien to secure the payment thereof. Such person must give notice to the owner, and in order to notify his fellow sub-contractors, material man, mechanics and laborers, must file a copy of said lien with the recorder of the county. Upon receiving such notice all subsequent payments due the principal or sub-contractor shall be detained. The supreme court has decided that, Insofar as it gives a lien on the property of the owner to sub-contractors, laborers and those who furnish machinery, material or tile to the contractor, is unconstitutional and void. All to whom the contractor becomes indebted in the performance of his contract, are bound by the terms of the contract between him and the owner.

Landlord and Tenant.

An unwritten lease is not valid for more than one year, unless there is delivery of possession, when a parol lease may be good, not exceeding three years should be in writing, and for more than three years must be in writing, attested, acknowledged and recorded as deeds are recorded.

Leases of natural gas and oil lands must be recorded forthwith to be of any force and validity, except between the parties thereto.

Landlords have no lien upon the chattels and goods of tenants, except such as may be contained in the lease, similar to a chattel mortgage, when it should be filed as such rent ceases upon destruction of building by fire or other cause. Tenants holding over after expiration of term may be evicted by the action of forcible entry and detention, up the giving of three day's notice before commencement of action, before the justice of the peace; when trial may be had three days after summons served upon th defendant.

Witnesses.

There must be two witnesses to all instruments required to be witnessed, viz: deeds, mortgages, Wills, leases, etc.

Contracts.

In law, a contract is an agreement between two or more persons, competent to contract, based upon a sufficient consideration, to do or not to do a particular thing. Therefore, it not only "takes two to make a bargain," as the old saying goes, but it also requires a valid consideration to support it. By consideration is meant what is given by one party to the contract in return for the performance of the other contracting party, as where A buys a horse of B for $100.00, the money is the consideration which prompts B to perform, and the horse is the consideration which A receives in return for the money paid.

Without a consideration there is no contract, and though A promised to give B $100.00, or B to make A a present of the horse, neither could enforce the other's promise in law, as both promises were made without consideration, each being what the law denominates nudum pactum, or a naked promise.

But if the money or the horse had been actually delivered as a gift, a recovery would not lie in law though the giver should subsequently change his mind and desire to have back the property or its value.

Mutuality.

A contract must be mutual, that is, each party must be bound to do or to omit & to do certain things, for it is a fundamental principle of law that both parties must be bound or neither is held.

Written or Verbal.

With certain exceptions, verbal agreements are as binding as written contracts, though not as readily or certainly proven. Prudence dictates that all transactions of any considerable importance, or which are likely to be some time in performance, should be reduced to writing. Care should be exercised that the writing include the full subject matter and terms of the mutual agreements. No technical knowledge is necessary to draw the ordinary contract. The language should fully set forth the obligation assumed by each party; it should be made out in duplicate, signed by both parties, (witnesses are not usually necessary) and one of the copies retained by each of the contracting parties.

Promissory Notes, Bank Checks, Etc.

A promissory note is a written promise or agreement to pay a specified sum of money at a time therein limited, or on demand, or at sight, to a person therein named, or to his order, or to bearer. The one to whom the note is payable is called the payee, and the one signing the note, the maker. All such instruments are assignable by indorsement in writing, though notes made payable to bearer or those which are already indorsed in blank, need no further writing to pass title, their mere delivery being sufficient for that purpose. An indorsement in blank is the signing of the name of the payee on the back of the note without any restriction as to whom it shall be paid. Passing title by delivery only and without indorsement creates no liability on the note, though if goods were bought and such a note delivered in payment thereof, or in payment of a prior indebtedness, and the note proved to be worthless, and action at law would lie to recover the price of the goods or the amount of the indebtedness, but, in such case, the note must be surrendered in court. Bank checks are governed by similar rules.

The indorsement of a note "without recourse" over the signature of the owner or payee passes title with the delivery of the note, but restricts the liability of the indorser the same as though it were a note payable to bearer and was passed without endorsement.

By endorsement, unless his liability is expressly restricted, the endorser promises that he will discharge the note according to its terms upon its presentation and notice, that the instrument itself and all prior signatures are genuine, that he has the right to transfer it, and that it is valid.

If a promissory note is not paid when due it usually must be "protested" in order to hold endorsers, and such protests consists, among other acts, in the formal presentment of the paper and a demand for its payment by a notary public, but for notes drawn and made payable within the same state, no protest is required, though it is usually made.

The words "I guarantee the payment of the within note," over a signature on a note is called a guaranty, and the guarantor undertakes to pay, if with due diligence, the debt cannot be made out of the maker.

Care in Drawing.

A note or a bank check should be made out carefully and in legible writing, the blanks should be filled so that the amount of the note or check can not readily be altered or added to, and preceding and following the words specifying the amount, it is well to insert marks or lines to fill the unused space, for, if the amount be "raised," and such "raising" was rendered possible through the careless manner in which the instrument was drawn, and some innocent persons has paid the amount fraudulently inserted, the maker of the note or drawer of the check is liable, on the grounds that, where one or two innocent persons must suffer, the one who, by his careless conduct has made such loss possible, must bear the consequence of his act.

Signature.

It is a good rule to adopt a certain form of signature and not vary therefrom, though, of course, where the usual signature is made with the initial of the given name, the full name should be used in signing formal instruments, as deeds, mortgages, wills, etc.

Date.

Attach a date to all instruments. It need not necessarily be the date of signing, as the written contract is only the means of proving the verbal agreement, and the latter may have been made at an earlier date.

Writing and Figures.

Where, in any instrument, a certain thing is indicated both by writing and by figures and they do not agree, the writing will govern as being more likely to be correct; and where a written form is used and the writing and the printed portion is not reconcilable, the writing will control.

Payment.

Payment is the discharge in money of a sum due. The giving of a note or check will not be considered a payment unless expressly so agreed.

Payment must be made to the person rightfully entitled thereto, if the indebtedness is evidenced by a note, to the holder by proper indorsement thereof, and such note should be exhibited and the payment indorsed thereon.

Payment of an account may safely be made to the creditor, unless notice of an assignment has reached the debtor, or he is chargeable with notice of some legal proceeding, or has constructive notice in relation thereto. Where an agent holds a note for collection after due he may receive payment and deliver the note to the maker, but such payment must be in money unless the owner agrees to take other property. A claim against the agent cannot be offset against a note owned by his principal, and, though the agent pays his own indebtedness by cancelling and surrendering a note owned by his principal, the latter may sue for and recover from the maker the amount due by the terms of the note if he can prove the same. This, also, would give the debtor under the note a cause of action against the agent who had paid his own debt in his principal's property.

Lost or Stolen Bills or Notes.

Where a note payable to bearer, or indorsed in blank is lost or stolen, a payment by the maker to the holder is good.

In the usual contract of sale, where it is not expressly agreed that credit shall be given or the time of payment specified, the buyer is bound to pay as soon as the seller is ready to deliver, and in contracts for the hiring of labor, wages should be paid when the work is done unless a custom to pay at certain intervals is shown to exist.

Payment by Mail.

The general rule is that payment must be made to the creditor or his agent personally, but a payment made in any manner requested or agreed to by the creditor will discharge the debtor, though the money never reaches the creditor.

Receipts.

A receipt is only prima faci proof of payment and evidence may be offered to show that the statements of the receipt are incorrect.

---

Full Performance Before Recovery.

An adult who contracts to labor for a certain period can recover nothing until such period is complete, unless a default by the other contracting party excuses the performance.

Gratuitous Services.

Gratuitous services rendered without intention to charge therefor and so accepted, cannot be recovered for in law, but a written memorandum showing them to be gratuitous is of considerable importance if suit is brought, on account of the tendency of juries to (perhaps unintentionally) favor the poorer suitor.

Sunday Laws.

By the common law Sunday contracts are valid but the legislatures of several of the states have passed laws which make such contracts void in those states. In Illinois, Nebraska and Ohio any agreement entered into on Sunday is valid if it might legally have been made on any other day, but in Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Wisconsin and other state, Sunday contracts are absolutely void.

Extra Pay for Sunday Work.

Unless contemplated in the agreement, extra pay for the necessary Sunday work on a farm, cannot be recovered for as overtime.

Infants or Minors.

Person of less than legal age are, in law, called infants.

By the old common law persons of both sexes become of age when twenty-one years old but by state the common law is changed so that in several other states females become of full age at eighteen and males at twenty-one, as formerly. This latter is the law in the state of Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, and Missouri and some others. A person becomes of age at the beginning of the day next preceding the anniversary of his twenty-first year or if a female, her eighteenth anniversary; thus, if a male person's twenty-first "birthday" occurred on the fifth day of January he would be of full age, capable of contracting, conveying his lands by deed or mortgage, voting and doing all other acts which a person of full lawful age might do, during all of the fourth day of January.

Hiring Infants or Minors.

A person hires and pays a minor at his peril.

Infant's Wages.

The usual rule is that the wages of an infant may be sued for and recovered by the father (or by the mother if the father be dead), and it is not a good defense that the employer has paid the minor. In practice, however, this rule is not strictly observed, and minors enter into contracts to labor and collect their wages as if of full age, but the law is as first stated.

Emancipation by Father.

* The father may consent, either orally or in writing, that wages be paid to his minor child, and such agreement will be valid and binding upon him; or he can emancipate the child and thus waive his right to any wages which the latter may earn.

A minor cannot sue in law in his own name, but must bring the action by his "next friend" who should be one of the parents, as before stated, if either be entitled to the minor's wages or by any other person of full age if the minor is entitled to receive his own wages.

Recission by Infant.

A minor may rescind his contract of hiring at any time and recover for the value of the services as though there had been no contract, and no damages caused by his breach thereof can be charged against him; but the adult, is bound by the contract unless it is avoided by the minor.

TO FUMIGATE A POULTRY HOUSE.

Remove everything, nests, perches and all. Put a pound of sulphur in an iron kettle, set it in the middle of the house, put a shovelful of hot coals into it, close the house up tight and don't open it for two or three hours. Burn all the old nest straw, paint the nest boxes inside and out with hot coal tar, and also the roosts. Whitewash the house thoroughly inside and outside, and you are rid of the mites.

MODEL FORMS OF ADDRESS FOR LETTERS.

Use ink in addressing letters or other mail matter.

Write plainly the name of the person addressed, street and number, post-office and state.

Place your name and address in the upper left hand corner of the envelope or package.

Follow the model form shown on the above diagram, and if the letter or other piece of mail matter is not delivered it will be returned to you.

More than thirteen million pieces of mail matter were sent to the Division of Dead Letters last year, a large proportion of which could not be delivered because of carelessness in writing addresses.

SECTION 12—UNMAILABLE MATTER.

Unmailable domestic matter—that is, matter which is not admissible to the United States mails for delivery in the United States or in any of its possessions—includes:

1. All matter illegibly, incorrectly, or insufficiently addressed.
2. All transient second-class matter and all matter of the third or fourth-class not wholly prepaid, and letters and other first-class matter, not prepaid one full rate—2 cents.
3. All matter weighing over 4 pounds, except second-class matter, single books, and documents printed and circulated by authority of Congress.
4. All matter harmful in its nature, as poisons, explosive or inflammable articles, matches, live or dead (but not stuffed) animals (see par. 8, sec. 13), and reptiles, fruits or vegetables liable to decomposition, guano, or any article exhaling a bad odor, vinous, spirituous or malt liquors, cocaine or derivaties thereof and liquids liable to explosion, spontaneous combustion, or ignition by shock or jar, such as kerosene oil, naphtha, benzine, etc.

5. All obscene, lewd, or lascivious matter, and every article or thing intended, designed, or adapted for an indecent or immoral purpose, or for the prevention of conception or procuring abortion, or matter of a character tending to incite arson, murder or assassination.

6. Postal, post, or other cards mailed without wrappers and all matter bearing upon the outside cover or wrapper any delineations, epithets, terms, or language of an indecent, lewd, lascivious, obscene, libelous, scurrilous, defamatory or threatening character, or calculated by the terms or manner or style of display, and obviously intended to reflect injuriously upon the character or conduct of another.

7. Post cards, bearing particles of glass, metal, mica, sand, tinsel, or other similar substances, are unmailable, except as provided in paragraph 6, section 7.

8. All matter concerning any lottery, so-called gift concert, or other enterprise of chance, or concerning schemes devised for the purpose of obtaining money or property under false pretenses.

Currency—Postmasters are not required to accept as payment for postage stamps, etc., any currency which may be so mutilated as to be uncurrent or as to render its genuineness doubtful. Nor are they required to receive more than 25 cents in copper or nickel coins in any one payment, nor to affix postage stamps to letters. Postmasters are expected to make change as far as possible. They must not give credit for postage.

4. Postal cards bearing particles of glass, metal, mica, sand, tinsel, or other similar substances, are unmailable, except when inclosed in envelopes with proper postage attached, or when treated in such manner as will prevent the objectionable substances from being rubbed off or injuring persons handling the mails.

6. Rural letter carriers are required to deliver special-delivery mail at the residence of patrons of their routes if they live within  $\frac{1}{2}$  mile of the routes. Special-delivery matter addressed to patrons of rural delivery who reside more than  $\frac{1}{2}$  mile from the routes will be placed in the box of the addressee in the same manner as ordinary mail.

MEASUREMENTS OF HAY.

The only exact method of measuring hay is to weigh it, but the rules given below will be found sufficient for ordinary practical purposes. To find the number of tons of meadow hay in windrows; multiply together the length, breadth and height in yards, and divide the product by 25. The quotient will be the number of tons in the windrow.

To find the number of tons of hay in a mow, multiply the length, height and width in yards, and divide by 15, if the hay is well packed. If the mow be shallow and the hay recently placed therein, divide by 18, and by any number from 15 to 18, according as the hay is well packed.

To find the number of tons of hay in square or long stacks, multiply the length of the base in yards by the width in yards, and that by half the height in yards, and divide by 15.

To find the number of tons of hay in a load, multiply together the length, width and height in yard, and divide the product by 20.

TO MEASURE GRAIN IN BINS.

To measure grain in bins, multiply the length of the bin in inches by the width in inches, and that by the height in inches, and divide by 2,150 for struck bushels, and by 2,748 for heaped bushels. The quotient will be the number of bushels contained in the bin.

TO MEASURE CORN.

In Cob.—Two heaping bushels of corn on the cob will make one struck bushel of shelled corn. Some claim that one and one-half bushels of ear will make one bushel of shelled corn. Much will depend on the kind of corn, shape of the ear, size of the cob, etc.

In Crib.—To measure corn in a crib, multiply the length of the crib in inches by the width in inches, and that by the height of the corn in the crib in inches, and divide the product by 2,748, and the quotient will be the number of heaped bushels of ears. If the crib flares at the sides, measure the width at the top and also at the bottom, add the two sides together, and divide by two, which will give the mean width.

TO COMPUTE THE WEIGHT OF CATTLE.

Multiply the girth in inches immediately back of the shoulders, by the length in inches from the square of the buttock to the point of the shoulder blade, and divide the product by 44, which will give number of superficial feet. If the animal has a girth of from 3 to 5 feet, multiply the number of superficial feet by 16, which will give the weight of the animal. If the girth is from 5 to 7 feet, multiply by 23, and if from 7 to 9 feet, multiply by 31. If less than 3 feet girth as in the case of small calves, hogs, sheep, etc., multiply by 11. Of course many circumstances, such as the build of the animal, mode of fattening, condition, breed, etc., will influence the weight, but the above will be found approximately correct.

Remedies for the Human Family.

Eye Water.

Table Salt and White Vitrol, each one teaspoonful. Heat them on an earthen dish until all the moisture has disappeared. Now add them to one half pine of soft water. White sugar, one teaspoonful; Blue Vitrol, a piece as large as a common pea. Should this be too strong add a little more water. Apply to the eye by dampening a pad made from soft white cloth, three or four times each day.

A Sure Cure for Small Pox.

A New York Physician contributes the following.—One ounce Cream Tartar dissolved in a pint of boiling water, to be drank when cold, at intervals. It can be taken at any time, and will prevent as well as cure. It is absolutely known to have cured in thousands of cases without failure.

To Strengthen and Invigorate the System.

Two drachms Essential salt of the round leaf Cornel, one scruple Extract Rheubarb, one scruple Ginger powdered. Make into pills and take for a dose two or three twice a day.

Russian Salve.

Take equal parts of Sweet Oil and Yellow Wax, melt slowly, carefully stirring. When cooling stir in small quantity of Glycerine. Good for all kinds of wounds, bruises, cuts burns, etc.

A Certain Cure for Drunkenness.

Sulphate of iron, five grains, Magnesia, ten grains, Peppermint water, eleven drachms, Spirit of Nutmeg, one drachm, twice a day. This preparation acts as astimulant and tonic, and os partially supplies the place of the accustomed liquor, and prevents that absolute physical and mental prostration that follows a sudden breaking off from the use of stimulating drinks.

Hair Tonic, French Recipe.

Take Castor Oil, three ounces, Alcohol, one and one-half ounces, Aqua Ammonia, one-half drachm, well shaken and mixed together. Perfume to suit, Berdamot or any other good perfume. This makes a splendid hair dressing, and will make it grow.

Lung Trouble.

Take Black Cohosh, one-half ounce, Lobelia, one-fourth ounce, Canker Root, three-fourths of an ounce; Blackberry root, one-third of an ounce; Sarsaparilla, one ounce; Pleurisy Root, one-half ounce, steeped in three pints of water. Dose one tablespoonful three times a day before eating. Sure cure for spitting blood.

Toothache Drops.

Four ounces Pulverized Alum, fourteen ounces Sweet Spirits of Nitre. Put up in one ounce bottles. Retails readily for 25 cents. This is the most effective remedy for toothache that was ever discovered, and is a fortune to anyone that will push its sale. It will sell at every house.

---

Green Mountain Salve.

Take one pound Beeswax, one pound soft Butter and one and one-half pounds soft turpentine, twelve ounces Balsam Fir. Melt and strain. Use to heal wounds.

---

A Good Cough Cure.

Take a white of an egg and pulverized sugar and beat to a froth. Take a tablespoonful every three or four hours.

---

Tetter Ointment.

One ounce Spirits Turpentine, one ounce Red Precipitate in powder, one ounce Burgundy Pitch in powder, one pound hogs lard. Melt all these together over a slow fire until the ointment is formed. Stir until cold. Spread on a linen rag and apply to the parts affected.

A Sure Cure for the Piles.

Confection of Senna, two ounces; Cream Tarter, one ounce; Sulphur, one ounce; Syrup Ginger, enough to make a stiff paste; mix. A piece as large as a nut is to be taken as often as necessary to keep the bowels open. This is one of the best remedies known to the Medical World.

Diphtheria.

Take a clean clay tobacco pipe, put a live coal in it, then put common tar on the fire and smoke it, inhaling and breathing back through the nostrils.

A Sure Cure for Corns.

Extract of Cannabis Indicus, ten grains; Salicylic Acid, six grains, Colodin one ounce. Mix and apply with a camels hair brush or a cloth so as to form a thick covering over the corn. Do this every night for three or four nights. Then take a hot foot bath and the corn can be easily removed without the aid of a knife or other instrument. This is sure to cure and is perfectly painless. Recommended by the best Chiropodists in the country.

A Cure for Sore Throat in All Its Forms.

Two ounces Cayenne Pepper, one ounce common salt, one-half pint vinegar. Warm over a slow fire and gargle the throat and mouth every hour. Garlic and onion poultice applied to the outside. Castor Oil, one spoonful, to keep the bowels open. This is a preparation that should be in the home of every family especially during the winter and spring months. This remedy is simple and inexpensive.

Drops of Life.

One ounce Gum Opium, one drachm Gum Kino, forty grains Gum Camphor, one-half ounce Nutmeg, powdered, one pint French Brandy, or old Whiskey. Mix all together and let stand for about ten days. Dose from thirty to forty drops for an adult, children half doses. This is one of the most valuable preparations in the Materia Medica, and will in some dangerous hours, when all hope is fled, and the system racked with pain, be soothing balm which cures the most dangerous disease to which the human body is liable, such as flux, dysentery and all summer complaints.

Positive Cure for Catarrh.

Carbolic Acid, ten to twenty drops; Liquid Vaseline, one to two ounces. Mix and use with an atomizer three or four times each day.

Warts and Corns—To Cure in Ten Minutes.

Take a small piece of Potash and let it stand in the open air until it slacks, then thicken it to a paste with pulverized Gum Arabic, which prevents it from spreading where it was not wanted.

Linement, Good Samaritan.

Alcohol, two quarts and add it to the following articles; Oils of Sassafrass and Hemlock, Spirits of Turpentine, Tincture of Capsicum, Tincture of Catechu Tincture of Guaiac, Tincture of Laudanum, of each one ounce, Tincture of Myrrh, four ounces, Oil of Organum, two ounces; oil of Wintergreen, one-half ounce; Gum Camphor, two ounces and Chlorform, one and one-half ounce. This is one of the best applications for internal pains known. It is superior to any of the foregoing recipes.

A Sure Cure for Cancer.

(As used by a New York Physician with Great Success.)

Take Red Oak Bark and boil it to the thickness of Molasses, then mix with Sheeps Tallow of equal proportion. Spread it on leaves of linwood, green and keep the plaster over the ulcer. Change once in eight hours.

---

Healing Salve.

Lard, 4 ounces; Resin, 2 ounces, sweet elder bark, 2 ounces. Simmer over a slow fire four hours or until it forms a hard brown salve. This is for the cure of cuts, bruises, boils, old sores and all like ailments. Spread on a cotton cloth and apply to the parts affected.

---

Pogardus Liniment.

Take two drachms Oil Cajeput, one drachm oil spike, one drachm Oil Sassafras, one drachm Oil Cloves, one drachm Oil Organum, thirty drops Oil mustard, one drachm Tinct Capsicum, two drachms gum camphor, eight ounces alcohol. Use as other Liniments for any ache or pain. For sore throat or hoarseness, saturate a towel with the liniment, place it over the mouth, let it remain so for 4 or 5 hours and you will be cured. For croup, bathe throat and chest with the liniment. Also let the child breathe the fumes of the liniment. For external use only. We especially recommend this liniment for general family use.

Specific Inflammatory Rheumatism.

One ounce Salt Petre, pulverized; one pint, sweet oil. Bathe the part affected three times a day with this mixture until relieved.

Magnetic Ointment.

One ounce Elder Bark, one ounce Spikenard Root, one ounce Yellow Dock Root. Boil in one-half pint water down one-quarter pint. Press and boil to two ounces. Add one-half pound resin, one ounce beeswax, tallow enough to soften. Apply to the sores by spreading on linen cloth.

The Horse

The only kind of horses which we have reference to in the following remarks are those for ordinary domestic purposes. The selection of a horse is about as delicate a task as one can undertake, a mistake being very easy to make and very difficult to rectify. The best policy for the purchaser (unless an expert) is to distrust his own judgment entirely and take the advice of someone on whom he can rely and who has a special knowledge of the subject. As this is not always practicable, however, a few rules, such as the best authorities agree upon, may be of service. The first step is to ascertain the age of the horse, which is best done by examining his teeth. The complete dentition of the horse can be expressed as follows: Incisors or nippers, 6-6. Canine or tusks, 2-2. Molars or grinders, 12-12. A horse has two sets of incisors teeth, and as the temporary incisor or milk teeth are shed and replaced by permanent teeth at regular intervals, by carefully noticing the size and appearance of the teeth we can generally arrive at the true age of the horse. The temporary grinders so closely resemble the permanent that no notice is taken of them by horsemen. It is important clearly to note the difference between permanent and milk teeth. The latter are much smaller; are what is called constricted, that is, narrower near the gums than on the cutting surface. All teeth have on the upper surface an indentation which is called the "mark." This "mark" is much more evident in the permanent than in the milk teeth. This mark is finally worn out and disappears after the animal is nine years old. At a year old the colt has cut all his milk teeth; the twelve incisor teeth are all full grown and the marks are clearly seen. These teeth appear through the gums as follows: The four central ones at ten days; the four middle ones at about two months; the four corner teeth, as they are called, at about seven months. At two years old the colt's mouth is changed considerably. The teeth are much worn down, presenting a smooth surface, the marks are hardly distinguishable on the central or middle teeth. One of the differences between the permanent and milk teeth can be seen. The permanent teeth as they are worn grow out again, while milk teeth become smaller. The horse loses his incisors in the same order that he cuts them. The central ones drop at two years and six months and are replaced by the permanent. At three years old the central permanent incisors are full grown, the "marks" or black spots on the top, are on them, and have disappeared from the "middle" teeth. These drop out at three years and a half, and at four years old the horse's mouth presents the following appearance: The central and middle permanent incisors are in their place while the marks are obliterated from the corner milk teeth. The tushes or canine teeth are now just showing through the gums. These teeth are not found in the mare. At four years and six months the corner incisors drop out; at five years old all the teeth are present, and from that date no further shedding is seen. The marks on the central disappear at six years old. At seven years old the middle lose theirs, and a small protuberance is seen on the outer edge of the corner teeth. These lose their marks at eight years old, and from that date no great reliance can be put in ascertaining the exact age. The gums fall away from the teeth, their upper surfaces are worn smooth, black streaks appear running up and down, covering the front of the teeth as about twelve or thirteen. Now it should be remembered that a horse is considered to be at his prime at five years old. Hence, dishonest dealers resort to various expedients to cause horses either older or younger to show an apparently five year old mouth.

"Points." We shall not attempt here to go fully into all the points for which the various breeds of horses are noted, but only to state those which should be found in any horse, required to do good service. See that the nostrils are large, round, well formed; that they may be no impediment to the breath. Let the eye be full, showing little or no white. Do not let the throat be too narrow. See that the head hangs out well from the chest and there will be less chance for the animal roaring. The shoulder is a part of great consequence. If speed is required, a sloping shoulder is essential, but an upright shoulder is better in a draft horse, as it gives the animal more power and more readily adjusts itself to the collar. Let the forearm be long, the knee flat and large. Consider it as a safe rule that all bones above the knee are better long, those below short; Hence, short cannot and pasterns are desirable. Look out for splints. (Which see below). Let the walls of the hoof be well shapen, not scaly but firm and smooth. Look out for corns on the sole; let the frog be large. In farm horses large flat feet are looked for. In higher bred animals the feet should be small, the toes if anything pointing a little in. Let the chest, unless speed is desired, be wide and full, the ribs well sprung, the deep-chest of the race horse being unsuited to the continued strain required for farm work. See that the abdomen is not too prominent, but well rounded tapering off towards the thigh joint, firm under pressure. The back should be well shaped, not camel-backed, as it interferes with the action of the animal, nor too high at the withers. Let the loins be well rounded to give speed, not too much "hogbacked" as it hurts the gait.

Now examine the hind quarters. Look out for spavin. See "diseases" below, for symptoms of spavin. The hocks, fetlocks, and quarters, should be on a straight line. As in the front legs, all the bones about the hock should be as long as possible, those below the hock as short.

When a horse is to be purchased, examine the eyes at the stable door, before he is brought out; the light coming upon them in that situation will enable you to discover any defect that may exist. Both eyes must be in an equal degree of light; and if they are not alike, one must be diseased. Weeping, cloudy, dull-looking eyes, are unsound; and if the eye be at all diseased, do not purchase.

Now take him out of his stall and run him down slowly on a rough or stony decent, at the end of a halter, his head unsupported and no whip near him. If he go boldly, with his knees bent, and his foot flat and firm to the ground, without dropping his head, his soundness before may be calculated upon; and if, on running him up hill, he goes with his hocks regularly together, and not dragging his toe, nor dropping from the hip, he is free from lameness. Pottering on the toe, and feeling, denotes that he is not sound. The horse should be shown quietly, because, when he is agitated, a slightly lameness may be overlooked; and always see him ridden, for many horses are pleasant to ride that are unpleasant to look at when ridden. When brought out, let the horse be placed with the fore-legs up hill; then, if his joint be at all bent over, or his legs shaken, you will best discover it.

Never agree to take a horse before you have tried him, and had him examined by a veterinary surgeon.

Grooming.

Thorough grooming is not less essential to the health of a horse than proper food. Especial care should be taken of the legs and fetlocks that no dirt remain to cause that distressing disease grease or scratches, which comes from filthy fetlocks and standing in dirty stables. When a horse comes in from work on muddy roads with dirty legs, the dirt should be dried and then brushed off, then rubbed dry with straw; that if dirty, wash clean ~~with~~ luke-warm water and rubbed dry with a piece of sacking. If not thoroughly dried they had better not have been washed. If the mud has been splashed thickly on the horse's belly and sides, these should be cleaned in the same way. If sweaty or warm from work the horse should be blanketed if he is to stand a minute in the winter air. If put at once into the stable, he should be stripped and rubbed vigorously with straw for five minutes or more and then blanketed; the blanket must be removed in an hour, and the horse given water and feed if it is proper time. It will not hurt him to eat hay when hot, unless he is thoroughly exhausted, in which case all food should be withheld for a while. A horse should never stand in a draught of cold air, if he cannot turn and put his back to it. He should never be turned into a yard to "cool off" even in the summer; neither should he be turned out to pasture until quite cool.

Colic.

Colic is the irritation of the coat of the small intestines, caused always by an active irritant interfering with proper functions of the stomach and bowels. Symptoms are strong contraction of the intestines—the animal throws itself down, jerking its legs, trying to ease the pain—is then better for a little—another spasm comes on, all symptoms repeated. In flatulent colic, when the intestines are inflated with wind, the symptoms are similar. Purge well—give clysters of soap suds—where much pain is evident, an ounce and a half opium. For the "Flatulent" give three drachms of carbonate of ammonia in a quart of cold water, and opium as above. Keep the animal well tied up and in a narrow stall.

Diarrhoea.

Diarrhoea is due to a derangement of the intestines from the presence of an irritant causing an increased secretion; may arise from sudden chills acting on the blood, wet grasses, bad food, is often the symptom of other diseases. The best treatment is, when produced by an irritant, to remove it by giving purgative No. 2, under remedies below, or three or four ounces of castor oil. Nurse well and give warm bran mashes. When due to sudden chills, give half an ounce of opium injections of warm water and salts. When evacuations are very offensive, give carbolic acid, one to twenty-five of water. A goodstringent for diarrhoea, not to be given too soon, is powdered opium, 1 drachm; tincture of catechu, one-half ounce; chalk mixture, one pint; give as a drench.

Founder.

Founder, or Fever in the feet, perhaps the most frequent causes of lameness, results from over driving on hard roads, stones, pricks, or too bad shoeing. Also may arise from causes other than local—may be a symptom of a feverish condition of the system. The symptoms are great heat and tenderess of the feet, especially about the coronet, throbbing of the arteries, great lameness. The best treatment is systemic. Remove the shoes and give a mild laxative (No. 2, under remedies below), to be followed by febrifuges, such as nitre, half an ounce; opium, one ounce; or ten drops of aconite, camphor, two or three drachms. Bleeding from the foot should be resorted to only in extreme cases.

Glanders.

Glanders, a fatal disease, arises from dirty stables, a specific poison, causing the formation of ulcers in the nose, with a great discharge generally from the left nostril, and a lump firmly attached to the lower jaw. These symptoms appearing, immediately slaughter the animal. There is no cure, and the disease is very contagious, endangering even man.

Liver Diseases.

Liver diseases, shown by clayey and offensive evacuations are often difficult to detect. The animal appears heavy, sleepy, feverish, poor appetite, tenderness on the off side. The treatment for diseases of the liver is: give one drachm of calomel, one drachm of opium, and linseed meal to form a ball, every night, with a pint of oil in the morning.

Scratches.

"Scratches" or "Chapped Heels" generally arise from allowing the feet to remain wet over night. The skin over the heel cracks and causes great pain. The best cure is prevention. Do not wash horses' legs; or if you do, wipe them dry. If noticed early, apply glycerine with a soft brush twice a day. Worse cases should be first treated with mild astringents. Scratches, if neglected, are apt to turn into that troublesome disorder termed by horsemen "grease." A filthy discharge sets in from the heel. If this is neglected, a red fungoid growth sets in, emitting an unmistakable odor. Grease must be treated as scratches, viz.: With glycerine and a weak solution of chloride of zinc, 30 grains to a pint of water, painted on. When the fungoid growth appears they must be cut off and carbolic acid applied. Build up the system and keep your stables in better order.

Spavin.

Spavin is a bony growth on the inner surface of the hock joint, giving a stiff motion of the hind leg, and making the animal tread on its toes in trotting. Fire and blister early (See remedies below.) If neglected, a spavin, though not materially injuring the animal's usefulness, will destroy his gait.

Sprain of the Back Tendon.

Sprain of the back Tendon just above the hoof, is a common form of lameness, attended with much heat and swelling. Cut the hair as closely as possible, then should there be any danger of a blister touching the hoof anoint the hoof with lard. Then rub in blister No. 2, given below, with the hand thoroughly leaving plenty on the surface. Tie the animal's head well up,, or better still, put on a cradle. Do not bed with straw, as it will cause useless irritation to the animal, but put down sawdust, as the pain is apt to cause the animal to stamp his feet. After a week rub a little neatsfoot oil over the place with a feather, to soften it. The animal refuses to walk, trembles, and is soon apt to fall.

Worms No. 1.

Bots are the larvae of a species of gadfly, which find their way into the stomach of the horse while turned out to grass. They are from half an inch to three-quarters in length, of dark red color, somewhat pointed at their end. They attach themselves to the wall of the stomach, and when the time comes will pass away in the faeces. It has been positively ascertained that they do not do no harm whatever to the horse, nor is there any remedy known to veterinarians which will remove them without injury to the animal.

Worms No. 2.

Thread Worm. A much smaller species of worm is found in the rectum. This pest, though not interfering with the condition of the animal as much as the former, causes much more uneasiness. The animal becomes very restive, stamping his hind legs often throwing his heals above his head from the severe itching caused by the thread worm depositing its eggs, which it invariably does, on the delicate skin, immediately outside the rectum. If the anus of a horse afflicted with thread worms be constantly well greased, these eggs will drop off when laid, and the supply of young worms thus being cut off, the disorder will cease. But it is more important to keep grease always applied to the anus, as otherwise the worms, which hatch out in a few hours, will find their way back into the rectum. In addition to this, a strong injection, made from boiling tobacco in water, alternated with linseed oil, will prove efficacious in allaying the irritation.

Worms No. 3.

White worms are found in the small intestines. They are of a pale pink color, about six inches in length, shaped not unlike the earth worm. Symptoms a hidebound, stiff coat, large appetite and poor condition. Considerable mucus is voided, and generally dries round the anus. Several worms pass with the faeces. Give a drachm of tartar emetic in a bran mash every night for a week and then administer a good purgative ball, to be followed by a pint of linseed oil. After which give a drachm of sulphate of iron mixed with the oats once a day for three days. Ordinary vermifuges as sold by veterinarians contain calomel and other preparations of mercury, and are apt to seriously injure the horse.

General Remedies.

We repeat the caution that the inexperienced should never give strong medicines, or weak ones, except in the most obvious cases.

Aconite.—Ordinary dose 5 to 15 drops in a quart of water.

Ball.—A simple condition ball, or gentle tonic, powdered caraway seeds, 6 drachms; ginger, 2 drachms; with 20 drops of oil cloves, with meal.

Bleeding.—In the roof of the mouth in the second wrinkle behind the front tooth; or if much blood is to be drawn, in the third wrinkle. In bleeding elsewhere professional advice is necessary.

Blister.—No 1. A strong sweating blister for splints, spavins, ring bone, etc., biniodide of mercury, 1 drachm; lard, 1 ounce. After applying wash with arnica water for several days. No. 2.—Powdered cantharides 1 part, lard 6 parts.

Calomel, ordinary dose 1 drachm. Carbolic Acid, ordinary dose, 1 tea-spoon one-half pint water. Castor Oil, ordinary dose 3 ounces to a pint.

Chalk Mixtures.—Take of prepared chalk 1 troy ounce, glycerine, 1 fluid ounce; gum arabic, fine powder, 240 grains; cinnamon water, water each 8 fluid ounces. Rub them together till they are thoroughly mixed. Dose, 1 pint.

Drench.—A good cooling drench when horses are in too good condition is: Nitre, 1 ounce Tincture of Digitalis, 2 drachms; sweet spirits of nitre, 2 ounces; Whey, one pint.

Firing.—The application of a hot iron to promote the absorption of a morbid growth. No one should use it before actually witnessing the operation.

Laudanum, ordinary dose, 1 to 3 grains. Large doses of laudanum or opium should not be repeated more than once-in four hours without experienced advice. Nitre, ordinary dose, one-half ounce. Opium, ordinary dose one-half ounce to one and one-half ounce.

Purgatives.—No 1. Mild. Barbadoes aloes, eight drachms; nux vomica, one drachm; carbonate of soda, one drachm, and ginger, three drachms; make it into a ball with honey soap. No. 2. Strong. Barbadoes aloes, three drachms powdered rhubarb, two drachms; ginger, one drachm; and caraway oil, 15 drops, made into a ball.

To Give Liquid Medicine.—Use a clean horn with one end open. To do this properly one person should raise the horse's head high as possible, and another seize the tongue with his left hand, and draw it as far as he can out of the right side of the mouth; then insert the small end of the horn to the root of the tongue, pour in the medicine slowly, releasing the tongue at intervals, to let him swallow. Some horses will swallow a large quantity at once; others seem unable to manage more than a tablespoonful at a time.

Remedies for Hogs

Points for Pork Packers.

Sugar-Cured Hams and Bacon. Place the meat to be cured in a tub or vat, and sprinkle a small quantity of salt over each piece. Let the meat remain two days, and it will then be purged of any blood that may have been left in it.

Then take enough spring water to cover the meat, and for each one hundred pounds of meat take three pounds of coarse brown sugar, one-quarter pound saltpeter, and one ounce each of alum and soda. Dissolve these in water, and add enough salt to make a brine strong enough to float an egg; pour this over the meat, which must be weighted with stones to keep it under the pickle ,and let stand for thirty days, when it may be hung up to dry and smoked for three or four weeks, according to the degree of smokiness desired. It is said that the Ashland hams, once famous in American markets, were cured in this manner, being smoked for four weeks with green walnut wood. Corn-cobs make an excellent smoke for bacon, but care must be taken not to let the fire get too hot.

For those who prefer to cure their hams and bacon without using brine, the following method is recommended. To cure 150 pounds of meat take twelve pounds of fine salt, two quarts of molasses (Porto Rico preferred), and half a pound of powdered saltpeter. Mix these together until they have about the consistency and appearance of a damp brown sugar. Rub the hams and bacon thoroughly with the mixture, and lay singly on a flat form or table in a cool, dry place. At the end of the first week rub them again in the same manner, and repeat the operation at the end of the second week. Soon after the third rubbing has been done expose the meat continuously to smoke for ten days.

THE RAISING OF SWINE.

Disinfect the Pens. It pays to use a cheap disinfectant in pig-pens. An excellent practice is to scatter a little chlorid of lime through the pen twice a week, while a few pails of whitewash, to which a small quantity of carbolic acid has been added, will materially assist in keeping the place free from vermin.

Wheat Straw for Litter. Some of the best-known and most successful breeders are emphatic in their assertions that wheat straw is the only proper straw to use as bedding for young pigs. This seems to be a small matter, but success is achieved by paying strict attention to things that are commonly regarded as trifles.

Phosphates Required. If your hogs grow thin in bone, do not blame it all to the breed. Remember that pigs cannot grow bone without the necessary material, any more than they can produce flesh and fat without food. See that your food ration contains plenty of phosphates, and keep salt and ashes within reach of the pigs.

Best Food for Pork-Making. Corn-fed pigs are popularly supposed to make the best pork, but pork made from pigs that have been fed on peas or beans, or on a mixture of both, is much firmer than that made from corn-fed swine. There is also a special flavor or sweetness about it that cannot be obtained by the use of other kinds of food. Another difference in favor of pork from pea or bean-fed pig is that the fat does not fry out so much in cooking, and this of itself makes it desirable for family use.

VERMIN ON SWINE.

First wash the body with a strong lye of wood ashes or weak saleratus water, then with an infusion of lobelia. Mix a teaspoonful of sulphur, and the same quantity of powdered charcoal, in the food daily. Or procure some leaf tobacco, and boil it to a strong amber in water sufficient to float it. Mix in while hot, sufficient amount of lard or refuse grease to make a thin salve, rub on the pigs or hogs troubled, and in less than twenty-four hours, if the ointment is thoroughly applied, they will not have a single louse on them.

CHOLERA IN SWINE.

Give one pint of turpentine each week to fifteen hogs, or in the same proportion to a lesser number, mixing it with slops.

BLIND STAGGERS IN PIGS.

Give half an ounce of Rochelle Salts, in a pint of thoroughwort tea. If the bowels are not moved in the course of twelve hours, repeat the dose. A light diet for a few days will generally complete the cure.

Remedies for Cattle

DIARRHOEA IN CATTLE.

For diarrhoea or Purging in Cattle administer the following, three quarters of a pound of Epsom Salts and the usual amount of Ginger. The next day after giving the above it might be well to use the following astringent. Take Prepared Chalk, two ounces; powdered oak bark, one ounce; powdered catechu, one-half ounce; powdered opium, two scruples; powdered ginger, two drachms. Mix all together and give in a quart on warm gruel.

COUGH AND COLD IN CATTLE.

A simple cold, attended by slight cough and discharge from the nostrils, is easily removed. Warm housing, a few mashes, and the cough and fever will usually succeed. Use the following formula: Tartar Emetic one drachm, Powdered Digitalis, one-half drachm; Nitre, three drachms. Mix all together and give in a quart of tolerably thick greul.

SORE MOUTH IN CATTLE.

Take a weak solution of Carbolic Acid, say one to five drops to the ounce of water, washing the mouth every few hours, allowing a little to be swallowed, and then following this with mild tonics and food that will not irritate the mouth.

LOSS OF CUD IN CATTLE.

Loss of cud in cattle is a species of indigestion and may be brought on by the animal's eating greedily of some food to which it is unaccustomed. Loss of water. Should any considerable degree of fever accompany the soreness of the loss of Cud.

Golden Seal, powdered, one ounce; powdered caraway, two ounces; cream of tartar, one-half ounce. Mix. Divide into six powders and give one every fours hours in a sufficient quantity of Camomile tea.

SORE TEATS.

Take Elder Ointment, six ounces; Beeswax, two ounces, mix these together and add an ounce each of sugar of lead and alum in fine powder. Stir them well together until cold. A little of this should be rubbed on the teats morning and night after milking, and if the flies tease the animal much a small quantity of aloes or assafoetida may be mixed with the ointment. The latter is more effectual but the odor is very unpleasant.

MILK FEVER IN COWS.

The principal expectation for relief from this malady, must be placed on the giving of a strong Purgative drink as the following: Epsom or Glauber salts twelve ounces, flour of Sulphur, four ounces; powdered ginger, four drachms; spirits of Nitrous Ether, one ounce. All this to be dissolved in warm water and given as a drink.

One-half of this draught may be repeated twice a day until the bowels are properly opened. In the severer affection it will be necessary to add from ten to twenty drops of Croton oil to the first draught. It is of importance to administer the draught slowly and carefully and when the cow is in any way unconscious it will be better to give by the means of syringe, placing the tube far enough into the neck to prevent any of the medicine from entering the windpipe.

HOW TO DRY THE MILK IN CATTLE.

A good dose of Physic, followed by a mild astringent drink will usually settle the business. Alum in the form of whey as shown by the prescription given herewith, will be the most effectual as well as the safest astringent. Six teaspoonfuls will be the medium dose; alum one-half ounce; water, two quarts. Boil together for 10 minutes and strain. The cow should be milked dry when the astringent is given and turned on some dry upland pasture. Two days after she should be examined, and if the udder is not overloaded, nor hard, nor hot, the milking may be discontinued; but if the udder is hard and full, she should be brought home, cleanly milked and another astringent drink given. The third drink, if it is necessary to give one, should be an apparent and after that the diuretic drink as follows: every second day. Powdered Nitre, one ounce; powdered resin, two ounces; ginger, two drachms, mix them well together and give them in a warm gruel. Milking should only be resorted to if the state of the udder absolutely requires it, for every act of milking only encourages the secretion of milk.

A GOOD PHYSIC FOR CATTLE.

It is very often found very necessary to have a good formula for purging your cattle at hand as it is very often the only means that will save the animal, especially in cases of costiveness or inflammation of the bowels. We recommend the following drink to be first used: Epsom Salts, one pound and caraway seed powdered, one-half ounce dissolved in a quart of warm gruel and give.

CANKER IN THE MOUTH OF CALVES.

The first thing to do is to evacuate the bowels. Epsom salts should be used for this purpose, given in doses of one or two ounces, and repeated daily until the proper effect is produced. As a local application, equal parts of tincture of Myrrh and water may be advantageously used by applying to the mouth, or a solution of common alum in water in the proportion of half an ounce to a pint of water. Should any considerable degree of fever accompany the soreness of the mouth, the fever drink already recommended may be given in half doses, with a scruple of magnesia added to each dose. The fever drink is the one used in the cure of coughs and cold.

Remedies for Sheep

COSTIVENESS IN LAMBS.

Epsom salts, two ounces; powdered caraway seed, one-quarter of an ounce. Mix in warm thin gruel sufficient to dissolve the salts. This will be the best thing that can be given, and it should be repeated every sixth hour until the desired effect is produced. The lamb should be turned into greener and more succulent pasture, and especially where there is any fresh flush of grass. If he refuses after a while to eat, he may be drenched with gruel, in which a little epsom salts should always be dissolved. While this affords nutriment, it will cool the animal and open the bowels.

SORE NIPPLES IN SHEEP.

Lambs often die of hunger, from their dams refusing them suck. The cause of this sore nipples, or some tumor in the udder, in which violent pain is excited by the tugging of the lamb. Washing with poplar bark, or anointing the teats with powdered borax and honey, will generally effect a cure.

Hints to Poultry Raisers

PRESERVING EGGS IN SALT.

Cover the bottom of a keg, cask, jar or hogshead, or any other receptacle you choose to pack in, with a layer of fine salt two inches deep. Upon this place the eggs, small end down, and far enough apart so that they will not touch each other or the sides of the receptacle; then put on another two-inch layer of salt, then another layer of eggs, and so on until the package is full. This is, probably the best method for housekeepers and for those who have only a small number to pack for market. The salt can be used over and over again.

TO KEEP EGGS FRESH FOR HOME USE.

The following recipe is given for keeping eggs not intended for market. Put them in an open-work basket or colander and immerse them for a moment in boiling water; let them stay just long enough to form a film on the inside of the shell; this excludes the air. Then place them in some convenient vessel, small end down, and set them in the coolest part of the cellar, where they will keep until wanted for use.

SPIRIT-VARNISH.

For preserving eggs is made by dissolving gum shellac in enough alcohol to make a thin varnish. Coat each egg with this, and pack, little end down, so that they cannot move, in bran, sawdust or sand—the sand is best; whatever is used for packing should be clean and dry.

TO TEST THE FRESHNESS OF EGGS.

Looking through a paper tube directed toward the light an egg held at the end of the tube will appear translucent if fresh; but if stale it will appear dark, almost opaque. Eggs are frequently tested in a somewhat similar manner without using a tube. The method is to grasp the egg to be tested closely in the hand and hold it between the eye and a lighted candle or lamp. In a dark room this test is sufficiently effective for ordinary purposes.

At the Birmingham (England) Poultry Show, held several years ago, prizes were offered for the best dozen preserved eggs that had been kept two months. The eggs were tested by breaking one of each set competing for the prize into a clean saucer, and also by boiling one of each lot.

It was found on breaking the eggs preserved in lime-water that they presented cloudy whites. Eggs preserved by rubbing over with beeswax and oil showed thin, watery whites.

Eggs that stood the test of boiling and which gained the first prize had been simply packed in common salt. They had lost little, if any by evaporation, had good, consistent albumen, and were pleasant to the taste. The exhibit which took second prize was treated as follows: Melt one part of white wax to two parts of spermaceti, boil and mix thoroughly. Take new-laid eggs, rub with antiseptic salt and fine rice starch. Wrap each egg in fine tissue paper putting the broad end downward; screw the paper tightly at the top, leaving an inch to hold it by. Dip each egg rapidly into the fat heated to 100 degrees withdraw and leave to cool. Pack board end downward in dry, white sand or sawdust. The judges were inclined to believe that had the trial been for a longer period than two months, the latter method would perhaps have proven the better of the two. The eggs were excellent, and on stripping off the waxed paper the shells presented the clean, fresh appearance of newly laid eggs

GAPS IN POULTRY.

Shut the chicken in a box, with some shavings dipped in spirits of turpentine and the vapor arising from the extended surface produces in most cases a permanent cure. Creosote used in the same manner has also been found very efficacious.

ROUP IN POULTRY.

As soon as discovered, if in warm weather, remove the affected ones to some well ventilated apartments, or yard; then give a dessert spoonful of castor oil; wash their heads with warm castile soapsuds and let them remain until the next morning fasting. Scald for them some Indian meal, adding two and one-half ounces of Epsom salts for ten hens or in the same proportion for a lesser or larger number; give it warm, and repeat the dose in a day or two if they do not recover.

LICE IN POULTRY.

Hens while hatching are very apt to become infested with lice, so much so that they are often driven from the nest. We have known the eggs to be covered and the nest alive with them. In such cases we would recommend removing the litter and eggs, cleansing the nest with boiling water. Then line the nest with tobacco stems.

HOW TO MAKE HENS LAY IN THE WINTER.

Give a portion of minced meat mixed with their other food every day or as often as convenient and see that they have plenty of gravel, old plastering or powdered egg shells. The latter may be mixed with their food. Without some substance of this kind, which can not be obtained when the ground is frozen or covered with snow, there will be nothing to form a shell.

REMEDY FOR CHICKEN CHOLERA.

Good rules for success in the management of fowls:

1. Good dry houses, well ventilated, but avoiding drafts.
2. Keep your hen houses clean and the floor covered with ashes.
3. Whitewash inside monthly from March first to October first.
4. Feed regularly, but never overfeed; cease feeding when the fowls cease to run for it.
5. Scatter the food on the ground when the weather will permit.
6. Feed mixed grain or alternate, as corn one day, oats the next, wheat the next, etc.
7. Allow adult fowls freedom in the morning as early as they desire.
8. Keep hens with chicks in small coops (well covered and dry), until the chicks are three weeks old.
9. Feed chicks morning, noon and late afternoon; cooked feed morning and grain as corn, cracked wheat, etc., noon and afternoon.
10. Mix ground black pepper with the morning food for chicks twice a week, one tablespoonful of pepper for every twenty chicks.
11. Grease the hen well under the wings, breast and fluff feathers as soon as the chicks are taken off with ointment made of lard and carbolic acid; ten drops of acid to two teaspoonfuls of lard.

In addition to the above the following recipe is a good cure for the cholera. Alum, two ounces, resin, two ounces; copperas, two ounces; lac sulphur, two ounces; cayenne pepper, two ounces. Pulverize, then mix three tablespoonfuls of the powder with one quart of corn meal and dampen for use. This quantity is sufficient for twelve fowls, and may be used either as a preventative or a cure. For the first it should be given once or twice a week.
